It's prime time to spruce up your home, yard and most important, your finances.

1. Perform your own self-evaluation to keep your career growing—Take stock of where you are at work, including your salary. Check the salary range for your job, know what you're worth and create a negotiation plan.
2. Spruce up retirement plan contributions—If you began the year with a raise, a good bonus or even got a great tax return, consider setting some of that aside for the future.
3. Dust off your estate plans—Doublecheck your list of beneficiaries to see if anything has changed in the last year.
4. Review insurance needs—If someone depends on your income for any number of reasons, it's worth considering whether life insurance will work for you.
5. Sow the seeds of your financial future—Begin to think about financial goals for the rest of the year and beyond — what seeds can you plant today to reap the rewards you seek?
